As a team member of FU airlines: ABC DEF 7 Data Structure: 2D array 8 9 10 10 Customer Books flight Prompt input text, and identifies if they "Do you want to pay 11 11 want to pay extra to to select your seat?" 12 12 select their seat 13 13 14 14 15 15 16 16 17 17 18 18 If no – Customer does not pay If yes - Customer pays extra 19 19 extra, and are assigned a seat and chooses their seat. 20 24 hours prior to departure total occupied seats variable 21 21 counts up the number of seats 22 22 Customer views the 23 23 2d array with Xs and Os marking vacant and 24 hrs prior - the occupied plane is filled, filling Queue data structure every vacant seat to keep track of seats from back to front, purchased – customer Customer Enters the left to right in the info row and seat selection order they were total occupied seats purchased variable counts up the number of seats If total occupied seats counter variable is equal to the total number of seats in the plane, show "Flight

sold out"